Student professor report

The relationship between the professor and the student should also be in our opinion a constructive relationship, focused not only from an educational point of view but also from a human point of view.

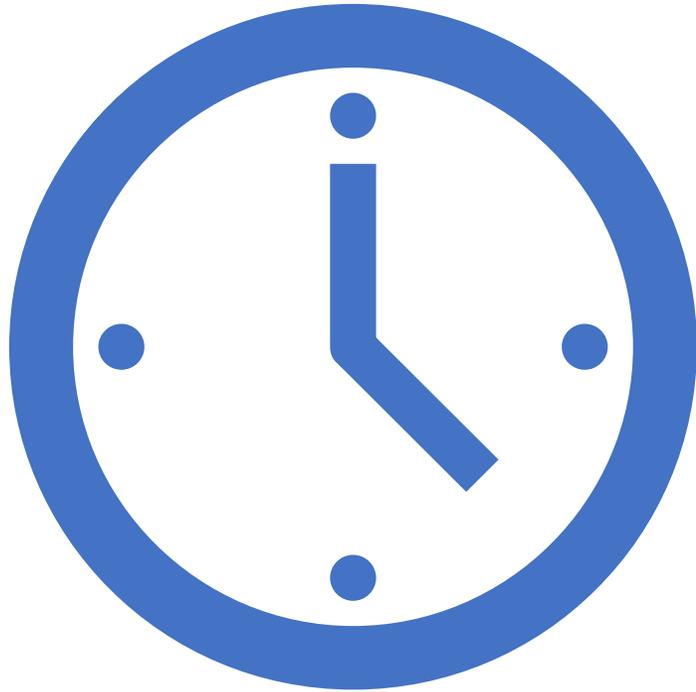

Student professor report

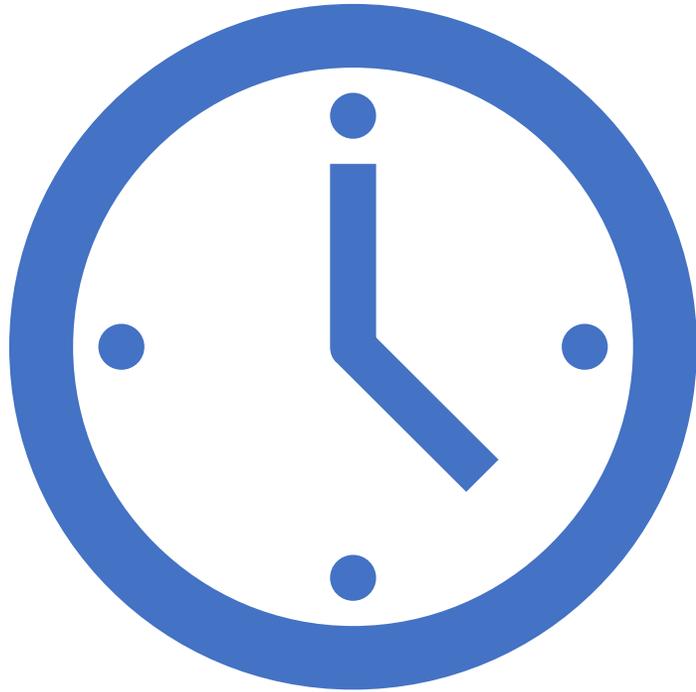

To carry out this report as a student professor it would be necessary not only to talk about school subjects, but it would also be necessary to discuss topics chosen by students and then have a kind of debate with the class and with the teacher in order to better bind the relationship.

School hours

The hours are too long and therefore unproductive for the student who can not stay focused.

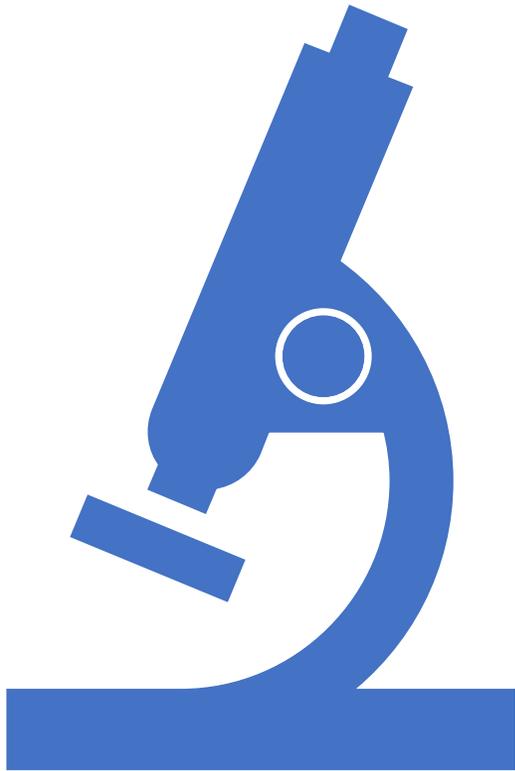

School hours

The solution would be to reduce the hours to hours from 45 minutes. Because it's scientifically proven that the human brain can stay focused for only 15 minutes, so decreasing hours will increase productivity.

Laboratory

The school doesn't put labs at the service of us high school students. Most of the lessons we are "forced" to make topics only from a theoretical point of view when you could easily go to the laboratory and experiment on these topics even in a practical way.

Laboratory

The solution would be to be able to find some time for us students of science as well. So that we are more interested in the subject and also in being able to understand it more fully and easily.

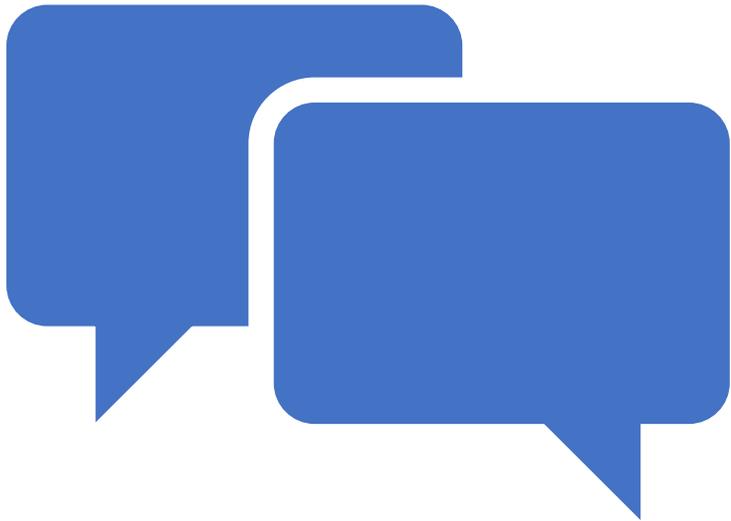

Projects

The school does not undertake to organize educational outings or projects useful for students' learning. These projects could be a fundamental element for learning because they could stimulate the interest of students, in order to push them to do better in studying.

Projects

The solution could be to organize educational outings or projects, such as going to the cinema to see well-known films, in English with English subtitles, in order to learn the language better and at the same time interest the student more in the subject.

Class change

One problem that affects learning is staying in the same class all day. Staying in the same class all day affects our mind, a scientific study shows that staying in the same class all day greatly affects our concentration.

Class change

The solution could be to identify certain classes as classes of certain subjects so as to change class every hour based on the subject to be attended, in this way the concentration would be maintained longer.
